Instructions and directions

Learning Outcome 5: Follow short and simple instructions and directions.

BEFORE LISTENING

PREVIEWING A The words and phrases in blue below are used in the listening. Match each word or phrase with the correct definition.

More and more people today are using scooter-sharing apps to travel around cities. You just download the app, search for a scooter near to you and then tap on the scooter you want on your phone. Then you pay to hire that electric scooter. The scooter-sharing apps tell their customers to wear a helmet when they ride so they will stay safe. It's easy to use these scooters. You turn them on using a power switch on the scooter or the app, and off you go!

1. _____ (n) software on your phone or computer that helps you do a specific thing

LISTENING SKILL Understanding instructions

When someone gives you instructions, notice the verb-noun collocations for the actions, for example, turn on the power switch. The speaker usually says these louder than the other words in the sentence.

People also usually say linking words like first, then, next, after that or finally to show when one instruction ends and the next one starts.

F Read these instructions. Circle the verb-noun collocations and underline the linking words. Then practice saying the instructions.

1. Finally, please remember to turn off the lights when you leave the room.
2. After that, you press the button at the top of the tablet twice.
3. First, download the ticket onto your phone.

AFTER LISTENING

G Would you like to ride an electric scooter in your town or city?

- What would the benefits of using an electric scooter be for you?
- What problems could you have?

Write your ideas in your notebook and then compare your answers with a partner.
