C

Last week we experienced a sandstorm in our town. The storm lasted about 20 minutes and the wind was very strong. My sister and I hadn't expected a sandstorm to happen that day, so we were walking to a store when it started. Suddenly, we realized what was happening and we felt quite scared. We stayed under the roof of a nearby store, but we could see other people struggling to move and falling over in the street. Finally, the storm stopped. Instead of going to the store, we decided to go home because being in the storm had been really unpleasant. From that day, I have always checked the weather forecast to find out if there will be a sandstorm in advance so I don't have the same experience again.
