

Glossary

Page 89

- 8.1 wellbeing (n) /'welbi:ɪŋ/
general good physical and psychological health • A good night's rest is essential for your own wellbeing. ❖ das Wohlbefinden
- 8.2 hay fever (n) /heɪ 'fi:və(r)/
the state of being unwell, e.g. sneezing because of pollen from flowers and trees • Erica avoids country walks in springtime as she suffers from hay fever. ❖ der Heuschnupfen
- 8.3 nutritionist (n) /nju'tri:fənɪst/
a medical expert on healthy eating • You should take advice from a qualified nutritionist rather than go on some weird diet you found on the internet. > nutrition (n), nutritional, nutritious (adj) ❖ der/die Ernährungswissenschaftler/-in
- 8.4 asthma (n) /'æsmə/
a medical problem that affects the breathing system • Although I love cats, I suffer from asthma which affects my breathing, so I can't have them indoors. > asthmatic (adj) ❖ das Asthma
- 8.5 plaster (n) /'plɑ:stə(r)/ a hard cover around an arm or leg to keep a broken bone in place while it heals • I had my wrist in plaster when I broke it. ❖ der Gipsverband
- 8.6 sling (n) /slɪŋ/
a fabric support tied behind sb's neck and used to take the weight off a broken arm, wrist, etc. • She had her broken arm in a sling. ❖ die Trageschlinge
- 8.7 face mask (n) /'feɪs mɑ:sk/
a protective face covering worn to prevent catching or spreading disease • The level of air pollution is so high in some cities that it's advisable to wear a face mask outside. ❖ der Mund-Nasen-Schutz

Reading Pages 90–91

- 8.8 insomnia (n) /ɪn'sɒmniə/
inability to sleep • Drinking coffee in the evening could be the reason for your insomnia, so you'd sleep better if you cut down on it. > insomniac (n) ❖ die Hyposomnie

- 8.9 nap (v) /næp/
take a short sleep • In some hot countries, it's common to nap for a couple of hours in the afternoon. > nap (n) ❖ das Nickerchen
- 8.10 digestion (n) /daɪ'dʒestʃən/
the process of breaking down and absorbing food in the body • Eating too quickly is generally bad for your digestion. > digestive, digestible (adj) ❖ die Verdauung
- 8.11 immunity (n) /ɪ'mju:nəti/
the body's ability to resist infection and illness • Lack of rest and sleep may lower your immunity to illness. > immune (adj), immunise (v) ❖ die Immunität
- 8.12 rapid (adj) /'ræpɪd/
quick • The patient is doing well and making a rapid recovery. > rapidity (n), rapidly (adv) ❖ rasante/r/s
- 8.13 rhythmically (adv) /'rɪðmɪkli/
in a regular pattern of movements or sounds • They danced rhythmically to the beat of the music. > rhythm (n), rhythmic, rhythmical (adj) ❖ rhythmisch
- 8.14 sleepwalk (v) /'sli:pwɔ:k/
walk around while still sleeping • When Tom suddenly woke up in the kitchen, he realised he'd been sleepwalking. > sleepwalker (n) ❖ schlafwandeln
- 8.15 lid (n) /lɪd/
an eyelid; the skin that covers the eye when you close it • After working on her laptop all day, Daisy's lids were closing, so she went to bed. ❖ das Lid
- 8.16 paralysed (adj) /'pærəlaɪzd/unable to move part or all of your body • He couldn't walk after the accident because his back was paralysed. > paralyse (v), paralysis (n) ❖ gelähmte/r/s
- 8.17 progressively (adv) /prə'gresɪvli/continuously step by step • The snow was becoming progressively heavier as the day passed. > progressive (adj), progress (n, v) ❖ zunehmende/r/s
- 8.18 circadian (adj) /sɜ:'keɪdiən/connected to the natural changes in living things in a 24-hour period • Working night shifts disturbed my circadian rhythms, making it hard to sleep properly. ❖ Bio-, 12-Stunden-

- 8.19 drive (n) /draɪv/
a strong need or wish to do sth • The accident lessened his drive to succeed at all costs.
➤ drive (v), driving (adj) ❖ der Antrieb
- 8.20 sleepiness (n) /ˈsli:pɪnəs/
a feeling of being very tired or about to sleep
• Unable to concentrate any more due to sleepiness, she took a short nap. ➤ sleepy (adj), sleepily (adv) ❖ die Schlaflosigkeit
- 8.21 battle (n) /ˈbætl/
an effort to change a bad situation or to achieve sth in a difficult situation • Sadly, the 80-year-old actress lost her battle against cancer. ➤ battle (v) ❖ der Kampf
- 8.22 aid (n) /eɪd/
sth, such as a device, that helps you to do sth
• For me, reading a book is the best aid for a good night's sleep. ➤ aid (v) ❖ die Hilfe, das Hilfsmittel
- 8.23 sleep tracker (n) /sli:p ˈtrækə(r)/
a device that records your sleep patterns
• He wore a sleep tracker on his wrist to make sure he was getting enough sleep.
❖ der Schlaftracker
- 8.24 inability (n) /ɪnəˈbɪləti/
the lack of ability • Their inability to see the path made the descent risky. ❖ die Unfähigkeit 📖 Opp: ability
- 8.25 in-built (adj) /ɪnˈbɪlt/
that exists as an integral or natural part of sth
• Cats have an in-built ability to see in the dark. ❖ innere/r/s
- 8.30 itchy (adj) /ɪtʃi/
with an uncomfortable feeling, making you want to rub your skin • My legs were covered in itchy spots where I had touched the plant.
❖ juckende/r/s
- 8.31 rash (n) /ræʃ/
an area of red spots on sb's skin • When she touched the caterpillar, she got a rash on her arm. ❖ der Ausschlag
- 8.32 scar (n) /skɑ:(r)/
a mark left on the skin after a cut has healed
• He has a scar on his leg from an operation he had years ago. ➤ scar (v) ❖ die Narbe
- 8.33 stitch (n) /stɪtʃ/
a piece of thread used to join the two sides of a cut on the skin • The cut on your finger will need three stitches. ➤ stitch (v) ❖ der Stich
- 8.34 swell (v) /swel/
get bigger or rounder • Her broken toe had swollen up and turned blue. ➤ swelling (n), swollen (adj) ❖ anschwellen
- 8.35 transplant (n) /ˈtrænsplɑ:nt/
an operation to replace an organ in sb's body • The patient is recovering well after her lung transplant. ➤ transplant (v) ❖ die Transplantation
- 8.36 lean (adj) /li:n/
thin and strong • Although she eats a lot, she stays lean by walking to work. ❖ dünne/r/s
- 8.37 toned (adj) /təʊnd/
well-exercised and strong • I do regular Pilates workouts to stay toned and fit. ➤ tone (n, v) ❖ durchtrainierte/r/s
- 8.38 severe (adj) /sɪˈvɪə(r)/
causing great pain; very serious • You must go to the hospital if you have a severe chest infection. ➤ severely (adv), severity (n) ❖ schwere/r/s
- 8.39 acute (adj) /əˈkju:t/
very painful or serious • He had an acute pain in his ear and went to see the doctor about it.
➤ acutely (adv) ❖ akute/r/s
- 8.40 mild (adj) /maɪld/
not serious or extreme • I've got a mild case of flu so I'll stay in and rest. ➤ mildly (adv)
❖ leichte/r/s
- 8.41 infect (v) /ɪnˈfekt/
spread bacteria or an illness to another person or living thing • Within days, thousands of people were infected with the virus. ➤ infection (n), infectious (adj) ❖ infizieren
- 8.42 cure (v) /kjʊə(r)/
make better • Unfortunately, some diseases still can't be cured. ➤ cure (n), curable (adj) ❖ heilen

Vocabulary Page 92

- 8.26 allergy (n) /ˈælədʒi/
a medical condition that causes a bad physical reaction to certain things • Her allergy to wheat flour means she has to avoid eating most types of bread. ➤ allergic (adj)
❖ die Allergie
- 8.27 diarrhoea (n) /ˌdaɪəˈrɪə/
a condition that causes sb to go to the toilet to empty body waste more often, and in soft liquid form • I had a dreadful attack of diarrhoea after eating meat that was off.
❖ der Durchfall
- 8.28 faint (v) /feɪnt/
lose consciousness • It was so hot on the bus that one passenger fainted. ❖ ohnmächtig werden
- 8.29 food poisoning (n) /ˈfu:d pɔɪzənɪŋ/
an illness caused by eating food that has dangerous bacteria • The restaurant closed because so many of its customers suffered from food poisoning on Sunday.
❖ die Lebensmittelvergiftung

- 8.43 non-infectious (adj) /'nɒn ɪn'fektʃəs/
(of illness) that cannot be spread easily from one person to another • Don't worry! Broken bones are non-infectious, so I'll come round to visit you. ❖ nicht-infektiöse/r/s 📖 Opp: catching, contagious, infectious
- 8.44 catching (adj) /'kætʃɪŋ/
(of illness) that can be spread easily from one person to another • The virus was catching and half the students in the school had it. > catch (v) ❖ ansteckende/r/s 📖 Syn: contagious, infectious
- 8.45 contagious (adj) /kən'teɪdʒəs/
(of illness) that can be spread easily from one person to another • All medical staff have to wear face masks to avoid catching contagious diseases. > contagion (n) ❖ kontagiöse/r/s 📖 Syn: infectious, catching
- 8.46 immune (adj) /'ɪmjʊ:n/protected against a disease, so you can't catch it • People who have had certain childhood diseases are then immune to them. > immunity (n) ❖ Immun-, immune/r/s
- 8.47 resistant (adj) /rɪ'zɪstənt/
not easily affected or infected by sth • A healthy lifestyle can make you more resistant to illness. > resistance (n) ❖ widerstandsfähige/r/s
- 8.48 vulnerable (adj) /'vʌlnərəbl/easily hurt or infected by sth • Babies are more vulnerable to the illness than older people. > vulnerability (n) ❖ gefährdete/r/s 📖 Opp: invulnerable
- 8.49 shiver (v) /'ʃɪvə(r)/
when your body shakes a little because of cold, fear, etc. • Waiting for the bus in the rain, she shivered with cold. > shiver (n) ❖ zittern
- 8.50 scratch (v) /skrætʃ/
rub your skin using your nails • Don't scratch your rash or you'll make it worse. > scratch (n) ❖ kratzen
- 8.51 be better off (expr) /bi: 'betə(r) ɒf/
be in a better position; be happier, healthier, etc. • If you still have a fever tomorrow, you'd be better off calling the doctor. ❖ besser (etw.) tun
- 8.52 fracture (n) /'fræktʃər/
a broken bone • Laura had a minor fracture in her arm, which healed quickly in a month. > fracture (v) ❖ der Knochenbruch
- 8.53 trauma (n) /'trɔ:mə/
a bad injury or experience, or a mental condition caused by shock • He hasn't recovered from the trauma of seeing the accident. > traumatic (adj) ❖ das Trauma
- 8.54 vaccine (n) /'væksɪn/
a chemical substance that a doctor puts into your blood to protect you from a disease • The vet gave the kitten a vaccine to protect it against cat flu. > vaccinate (v), vaccination (n) ❖ der Impfstoff
- 8.55 agony (n) /'æɡəni/
a feeling of intense pain • He was in agony when he fell and broke a toe. ❖ die Qual
- 8.56 pandemic (n) /pæn'demɪk/
a disease that spreads around most of the world • The pandemic known as the Spanish flu began in 1918 and had a devastating effect, killing millions around the world. ❖ die Pandemie
- 8.57 injection (n) /ɪn'dʒekʃn/
when you are given medicine through a needle • When she cut her hand in the garden, the doctor gave her an injection to prevent infection. > inject (v) ❖ die Spritze
- 8.58 physiotherapist (n) /fɪziəʊ'therəpɪst/sb whose job is to treat people who have medical problems with their muscles or bones • The physiotherapist used various machines on my injured back and helped me to heal it. > physiotherapy (n) ❖ der/die Physiotherapeut/-in
- 8.59 surgeon (n) /'sɜ:dʒn/
a doctor who performs operations • The surgeon did an excellent job of saving the patient's arm after the accident. > surgery (n) ❖ der/die Chirurg/-in
- 8.60 paramedic (n) /pərə'medɪk/sb who is trained to give medical help • The paramedics took the injured passengers and gave them first aid in the ambulance. ❖ der/die Rettungssanitäter/-in
- 8.61 psychiatrist (n) /saɪ'kaɪətrɪst/a doctor who treats patients with mental illnesses • People with depression usually get a lot of help from trained psychiatrists. > psychiatry (n) ❖ der/die Psychiater/-in
- 8.62 associate (v) /ə'səʊsɪeɪt/
connect • I will always associate the year 2019 with the start of the pandemic. > association (n) ❖ verknüpfen, verbinden

Medical treatment

amputation	sling	vaccine
injection	stitch
plaster	transplant

Grammar Page 93

- 8.63 allergic (adj) /ə'lɜ:dʒɪk/
having an allergy • I'm allergic to jelly and any food that contains it makes me sick instantly. > allergy (n) ❖ allergische/r/s

Listening Page 94

- 8.64 non-disabled (adj) /'nɒn dɪs'eɪbld/
having no mental or physical disability
• Even with one leg, he swims faster than most non-disabled people. ❖ nicht-behindertel/r/s
- 8.65 adaptive (adj) /ə'dæptɪv/
flexible; which can be adapted to suit the situation
• The course content is adaptive to suit the needs of different age groups. > adapt (v), adaptation (n) ❖ anpassbare/r/s
- 8.66 amputation (n) /,æmpju'teɪʃn/
the act of surgically cutting off a limb (e.g. arm, leg)
• His foot had to be amputated to prevent the spread of the infection. > amputate (v), amputee (n) ❖ die Amputation
- 8.67 impairment (n) /ɪm'peəmənt/
a physical or mental condition which prevents part of your body functioning correctly
• Dad has a hearing impairment, so he wears a hearing aid. > impair (v) ❖ die Beeinträchtigung, die Behinderung
- 8.68 mobility (n) /məʊ'bɪləti/
the ability to move around
• Her mobility improved with physiotherapy and she was able to use her legs again. > mobilise (v), mobile (adj) ❖ die Mobilität
- 8.69 limitation (n) /lɪmɪ'teɪʃn/
sth that prevents you from doing more
• Shortage of time was our main limitation on the project. > limit (v, n) ❖ die Einschränkung
- 8.70 cerebral palsy (n) /,serəbrəl 'pɔ:lzɪ/
a medical condition that causes the brain to lose control of movements in the arms and legs
• Susie was born with cerebral palsy, so she has mobility problems. ❖ die zerebrale Kinderlähmung
- 8.71 wheelchair (n) /'wi:lʃeə(r)/
a chair with wheels used by people who can't walk
• He needed a wheelchair to move around after both his legs were injured.
❖ der Rollstuhl
- 8.72 able-bodied (adj) /,eɪbl 'bɒdɪd/
not physically disabled
• Both disabled and able-bodied athletes can take part in the Olympic Games. ❖ ohne Behinderung
- 8.73 ultimate (adj) /'ʌltɪmət/
final
• Her ultimate goal is to win a gold medal for swimming. ❖ langfristige/r/s, endgültige/r/s

Health issues

allergy	food poisoning	pandemic
asthma	fracture	rash
blindness	hay fever	scar
cerebral palsy	impairment	trauma
diarrhoea	insomnia
digestion	mobility

Speaking Page 95

- 8.74 summarise (v) /'sʌməraɪz/
say the general meaning of sth in a few words
• On the application form, he had to summarise the reasons why he wanted the job.
> summary (n) ❖ zusammenfassen

Grammar Page 96

- 8.75 hop (v) /hɒp/
move forward by repeatedly jumping on one leg
• He hurt his ankle badly and hopped into the house using his other leg. > hop (n)
❖ hüpfen

Use your English Page 97

- 8.76 (I'll) believe it when I see it (expr) /'(aɪl) brɪ'li:v it wen aɪ si: ɪt/
(I) doubt if it's likely or true
• So you promise you'll never be late again? I'll believe it when I see it! ❖ Das glaube ich erst, wenn ich es sehe
- 8.77 (the) chances are (expr) /'(ðə) tʃɑ:nsɪz ɑ:(r)/ it's likely that
• The chances are you'll feel better after a good sleep. ❖ es ist gut möglich, dass ...
- 8.78 (a) good chance that (expr) /'(ə) gu:d tʃɑ:ns ðæt/
a strong likelihood that
• There's a good chance she's forgotten about the meeting, so call her. ❖ es besteht eine hohe Wahrscheinlichkeit, dass ...
- 8.79 probability (n) /,prɒbə'bɪləti/
the level of possibility that sth might happen
• I heard a crack when I fell, so there's a strong probability my ankle is broken.
> probable (adj), probably (adv)
❖ die Wahrscheinlichkeit ☞ Syn: likelihood ☞ Opp: improbability
- 8.80 (I) wouldn't bet on it (expr) /'(aɪ) ,wʊdnt 'bet ɒn ɪt/
(I) think it's unlikely or not true
• He might get the job, but I wouldn't bet on it! ❖ (ich würde) nicht darauf wetten
- 8.81 take issue with (expr) /teɪk 'ɪʃu: wɪθ/
disagree with
• He took issue with the referee's decision. ❖ mit (jdm./etw.) nicht einverstanden sein
- 8.82 take effect (expr) /teɪk ɪ'fekt/
start to have the intended results
• My temperature dropped as the painkillers took effect. ❖ greifen, anschlagen

- 8.83 take (sb's) word for it (expr) /teɪk ('sʌmbədɪz) wɜːd fər ɪt/believe sb • It seems incredible that he was arrested, but I'll take your word for it.
❖ es (jdm.) glauben können
- 8.84 take note (of) (expr) /teɪk nəʊt (əv)/
pay attention to • I took note of my coach's suggestions. ❖ (etw.) zur Kenntnis nehmen
- 8.85 take (sth) on board (expr) /teɪk ('sʌmθɪŋ) ɒn bɔːd/accept and consider an idea • He took his friend's advice on board and applied for the coaching course. ❖ (etw.) bedenken
- 8.86 build up (phr v) /bɪld ʌp/
develop, strengthen • She went swimming every day to build up her strength.
❖ aufbauen (v)
- 8.87 contract (sth) (v) /kən'trækt ('sʌmθɪŋ)/
catch an illness • They wore face masks to avoid contracting the virus. ❖ sich (etw.) einfangen
- 8.88 diagnose (v) /'daɪəgnəʊz/
say what illness sb has • The doctor has diagnosed me with a throat infection.
➢ diagnosis (n) ❖ diagnostizieren
- 8.89 discharge (v) /dɪs'tʃɑːdʒ/
give official permission for sb to leave • He was discharged from hospital four days after the operation. ➢ discharge (n) ❖ entlassen
- 8.90 sustain (v) /sə'steɪn/suffer (injury/damage/defeat) • She had to stop running for months when she sustained a back injury. ❖ erleiden
- 8.91 twist (v) /twɪst/turn part of the body (e.g. ankle, wrist) the wrong way causing injury • I fell and twisted my ankle when I was playing tennis. ➢ twist (n) ❖ verstauchen
- 8.92 immune system (n) /ɪ'mjuːn sɪstəm/
the body's natural defence system against disease • If you feel tired all the time, it's a sign you have a weak immune system.
❖ das Immunsystem
- 8.93 consultant (n) /kən'sʌltənt/
a medical expert • He has an appointment to see a consultant about his knee injury.
➢ consult (v), consultation (n) ❖ der Facharzt/ die Fachärztin
- 8.94 diagnosis (n) /,daɪəg'nəʊsɪs/
the act of identifying what is wrong with sb's health • The doctor's original diagnosis was that I had a bad cold, but it turned out to be a more serious chest infection. ➢ diagnose (v)
❖ die Diagnose  Plural: diagnoses

Expressions and phrasal verbs

be better off	take effect
believe it when I see it	take issue with build up	take note of
(the) chances are	take on board
(a) good chance	take your word for it
I wouldn't bet on it

Writing Pages 98–99

- 8.95 address (v) /ə'dres/
deal with; give attention to • The council are having a meeting to address the issue of public transport. ❖ ansprechen
- 8.96 fundamental (adj) /ˌfʌndə'mentl/
basic and essential • Physical exercise is a fundamental requirement of a healthy lifestyle.
➢ fundamentally (adv) ❖ grundlegende/r/s
- 8.97 outdated (adj) /,aʊt'deɪtɪd/
old-fashioned • This old computer software is outdated and needs upgrading.
❖ veraltete/r/s

Adjectives

able-bodied	fundamental	paralysed
acute	immune	resistant
adaptive	lean	sufficient
allergic	mild	toned
catching	non-disabled	ultimate
circadian	non-infectious	vulnerable
contagious	outdated

Video Page 100

- 8.98 blindness (n) /'blaɪndnəs/
lack of ability to see • He suffered temporary blindness after his accident, but now his sight is restored. ➢ blind (adj, v) ❖ die Erblindung
- 8.99 ophthalmologist (n) /,ɒfθæ'l'mɒlədʒɪst/
a doctor who specialises in diseases of the eye
• My ophthalmologist recommends that I have laser treatment to correct my sight problems.
➢ ophthalmology (n), ophthalmological (adj)
❖ der Augenarzt/die Augenärztin
- 8.100 regain (v) /rɪ'geɪn/
get back sth you had • After he fainted, he regained consciousness within a few seconds.
❖ zurückerlangen
- 8.101 apartheid (n) /ə'pɑːtaɪt/
the political system of separating black and white people in South Africa in which only white people had full rights • During apartheid, black people and white people were not allowed to travel on the same public transport.
❖ die Apartheid

Jobs

consultant

nutritionist

ophthalmologist

paramedic

physiotherapist

psychiatrist

surgeon