Track 52, Page 96

Ms. Ross: Good morning Mr. Chan. I'm Ms. Ross.

Mr. Chan: Good morning, Ms. Ross.

Ms. Ross: Mr. Chan. I have your application in front of me. I see that you work at the airport now. You are a parking lot attendant.

Mr. Chan: Yes, Ms. Ross. I collect tolls. Sometimes, I help passengers find their cars.

Ms. Ross: And, why are you interested in a job as a passenger service worker?

Mr. Chan: I started to work at the airport 2 years ago. I didn't speak much English, now I speak English much better. This job is a promotion for me. I make $9 an hour now. The salary for this job is $1 more an hour.

Ms. Ross: Do you have a driver's license?

Mr. Chan: Yes.

Ms. Ross: Do you have any tickets? Any accidents?

Mr. Chan: No, I don't. I have a clean driving record.

Ms. Ross: You have a good letter of recommendation from your supervisor. When are you available to work?

Mr. Chan: I can work any hours.

Ms. Ross: Many of the passengers who need assistance are elderly. Do you have any experience with older people?

Mr. Chan: Yes, my grandfather is in a wheelchair. I often help him. I'm a friendly person and comfortable with everyone.

Ms. Ross: Do you have any questions?

Mr. Chan: Do I receive the same benefits?

Ms. Ross: You still get medical benefits, but in this job, you also have a prescription plan. Your vacation is the same, two weeks. Anything else?

Mr. Chan: No, that's all.

Ms. Ross: I'm going to interview two more applicants. I will call you on Friday about the position.

Mr. Chan: Thank you for the interview, Ms. Ross.
