- Leon: Are you buying a dictionary?
Dev: Yes, I am.
Leon: You know, I think you're in my class. English 2?
Dev: With Mr. Baxter?
Leon: Yes. At 9 o'clock. In room 312.
Dev: Hey, we are in the same class.
Leon: My name is Leon.
Dev: Hi Leon, my name is Dev.
Leon: Hi, Dev. Are you a new student?
Dev: Yeah. This is my first week at school.
Leon: This is my second year here. What country are you from?

Dev: I'm from India. How about you?

Leon: I'm from Poland. What classes are you taking?

Dev: English and writing and math. How about you?

Leon: The same. And I have a computer class. I'm going to the cafeteria for a sandwich. Want to come?

Dev: Sure. I'd like a soda.

A: Oh, Victoria, this is a great picture. Is this your family?

B: Yes, it is, it's our family reunion at the park.

A: Are all of these your children?

B: Not all of them. These are my daughters, Barbara, Betty, and Benita. This tall man is my son, Bobby.

A: Where do they live?

B: I'm lucky. My daughters live here in Massachusetts, but Bobby lives in California with his wife, Julia. She's the woman wearing glasses. They have two children. Bobby's holding Erika, she's four, and the little one is Bobby, Jr. He's two.

A: They live in California? What does Bobby do?

B: He's a college professor in Los Angeles. He teaches engineering. Julia is an elementary school teacher.

A: How about your other children? What do they do?

B: Well, Barbara is a homemaker. She has twins, Victor and Valerie, they're wearing the same T-shirts. They're nine years old, and they are in fourth grade.

A: Oh, I see them here. They're cute.

B: Thanks. Betty's a doctor and Benita's a baker. She bakes cakes and cookies for her own bakery.

A: That's wonderful! And your husband?

B: That's Frank. He's sitting under the tree.

A: What does he do?

B: He's retired.

A: Well, you have a beautiful family, Victoria.

B: Thank you, we had a wonderful time...

My name is Magda Santos. I live in an apartment building on Pine street between Second Street and Third Street. My address is 232 Pine Street, apartment 4G. My apartment is on the fourth floor. I live in a two-bedroom apartment with my husband and my two daughters. My sister lives in the next building, at 234 Pine Street. She's in apartment 3A. I like my apartment and my neighborhood.

The elementary school is very near my building. It's across the street, on the corner of Pine Street and Third Street. My daughters can walk to school. There's a small park next to the school. My daughters play there on Saturdays and Sundays. The grocery store is on the corner of Pine and Third Street.

There's a coffee shop across the street from our apartment buildings. Sometimes my sister and I get a cup of coffee and sit and talk.

My building doesn't have a laundry room, but that isn't a problem. There is a laundromat next to our apartment building.

There are many restaurants in the neighborhood: Mexican, Italian, Chinese, and Indian. I like to try different kinds of food.

There are two parking lots behind the apartment buildings. Each apartment gets only one space. My husband takes the bus to work. The bus stop is on the corner of Pine and Second Street, in front of the laundromat.

Sometimes Pine Street is busy and noisy and there is a lot of traffic, but that's OK. Everything is convenient and the neighbors are friendly.

Apartment one

A: I'm calling about the apartment for rent. It's a two bedroom, right?

B: Yes, it's a two-bedroom apartment.

A: Where is the apartment?

B: It's in Madison on First Street, near the park.

A: Does it have parking?

B: No, it doesn't have parking. You can park on the street.

A: Does it have air conditioning?

B: Yes, it does.

A: How much is the rent?

B: The rent is $1,100 a month.

A: Are the utilities included?

B: You pay the heat. Electric, water, and trash are included.
