Conversation 1

Desk: Front desk. How can I help you?

Mr. Evans: This is Bill Evans in room 403. Our room is hot, very hot. We can't stay in here. What's wrong with this hotel?

Desk: Mr. Evans, I'm very sorry. Let me explain.

Mr. Evans: I don't need you to explain anything. I want the air conditioning fixed and I want it fixed now.

Desk: Mr. Evans, we know that there is a problem and there's someone working on it now.

Mr. Evans: This room is $150 a night. If the air conditioning isn't fixed in one hour, we're leaving.

Desk: Mr. Ev...

Conversation 2

Desk: Front desk. How can I help you?

Mr. Johnson: This is Mr. Johnson, room 425. Our room is very hot. The air conditioning isn't working. Are there any other rooms available?

Desk: We're sorry Mr. Johnson. We know that there is a problem and there's someone working on it now.

Mr. Johnson: Oh, that's good. But, we really can't stay in the room now.

Desk: Our restaurant has air conditioning. We're offering free drinks and appetizers in the restaurant. The air conditioning will be working soon.

Mr. Johnson: Thank you. We'll go to the restaurant and relax.

Desk: Thank you, Mr. Johnson. And again, we are sorry about the situation.

UNIT 9

Track 78, Page 158

I always go downtown on Saturday morning. It's the only day I have free all week. So, last Saturday I walked downtown as usual. First, I went to the bank and deposited my paycheck. Then, I walked across the street to the shoe store. I tried on two pairs of sneakers, but I didn't see anything that I liked. Next, I stopped at the post office and mailed a letter to my brother. I waited in line for ten minutes to buy stamps. Then, I walked to the drugstore and picked up a prescription for my wife. Next door, at the camera store, I looked at some digital cameras. After that, I was a little hungry, so I stopped at the coffee shop and ordered some juice, a cup of coffee, and a donut. Then I walked over to the library. They have a lot of newspapers and I looked at the Arabic language paper from my country. I borrowed a book about digital photography. Also, I applied for a library card. Finally, I stopped at the supermarket because I needed some fruit and a gallon of milk. That was my last stop and I walked back home.

1.

A: How was your weekend?

B: We visited some friends from our country. We talked for hours!
2.

A: Did you have a good weekend?

B: One of the drivers at work was sick. I worked all day Saturday and Sunday.

3.

A: What did you do this weekend?

B: It was my dad's birthday. The whole family celebrated at my parents' house. There were about 30 people.

4.

A: Did you have a nice weekend?

B: I was sick all weekend. I just stayed in bed.

5.

A: How was your weekend?

B: It rained all weekend. I watched TV and played games on the computer.

6.

A: Did you work on Saturday night?

B: No, I just relaxed. I stayed home, ordered a pizza, and watched TV.

Track 83, Page 166

A: Dad, my car is gone! I parked it on Main Street. It's not here. Someone stole my car!

B: Calm down. Where are you?

A: I'm on Main Street. I parked my car on the street and it's not here.

B: Okay. Are there any other cars parked near you?

A: Dad, there aren't any cars here.
 B: Are there any parking signs?
 A: Um. Let me look. Oh, no! Dad. It says, "No parking 4:00 to 7:00."
 B: It's 5:00. I think your car was towed.
 A: Dad, where's my car now?
 B: Look at the Parking Sign. Does it give a phone number?
 A: Yes. Yes. I have it. I'll call them.
 B: They towed it to an impound lot. You're going to need cash to get your car back. Stop at an ATM on your way to the lot.
 B: Hello?
 A: Dad, I'm home. What a nightmare!
 B: Did you get your car back?
 A: Yes, but it was terrible and expensive. I took a cab to the impound lot.

B: Did you stop on the way and get cash?
 A: Yeah. The person at the impound lot told me how much I had to pay. I went to an ATM and got $300. When I got to the lot, I had to show my license. And they wanted to see my registration and my insurance card.
 B: How much did they charge for the towing?
 A: I paid $175 for the towing and they charged me $100 for storage. Dad, my car was only there for a few hours!
 B: About ten years ago, the same thing happened to me. I parked next to a fire hydrant and my car was towed. You know, you have to pay your ticket, too.
 A: I know. The towing company gave me the ticket, too. That's another $75.
 B: I'm sorry, honey. You really had a bad day.
 A: I sure did!

My name is Oscar Vega. I'm 21 years old and I'm a student here at the University of Texas. I was born in a small town in Mexico. I started school when I was 6 years old. Let's see, what can I remember? One summer when I was 7, I fell off my bicycle and broke my arm. When I was in second grade, I got chicken pox. My brothers and sister got chicken pox too. And, when I was a kid I played soccer all the time; before school, after school, and on weekends. I made the school team. When I was 12 our team won a championship. I got a trophy. Then, when I was 14, I moved to the United States with my parents. We moved to Dallas, Texas. I started high school here in Dallas, but I didn't like it at first. I didn't know anyone and I wasn't on the soccer team. But, I knew a little English and I learned it fast. The year I turned 16 was great for me. My father taught me how to drive and I got my license. When I was 17 I found my first job. It was at a pizza place. After I graduated from high school, I started college. I'm still working at the pizza place and now I'm the assistant manager. I'm majoring in business and working nights and weekends.
