It's early in the morning at Coffee to Go. Kate is working behind the counter. She's at the cash register. She's taking an order. She's tired because she's working overtime again.

Sherri is standing in front of the counter. She is buying some coffee. She is on her way to work.

Pete is another employee behind the counter. He's pouring a large coffee. Jess is standing behind Sherri. He always orders the same thing: a large coffee, and two donuts. He is giving his order to Kate, but Pete is already pouring Jess a large coffee. Jess comes to Coffee to Go every weekday before work. His office is across the street.

Standing at the table is Mr. Lopez. He's putting sugar in his coffee. He likes his coffee dark and sweet.

Sitting at a table are three regular customers; Mary, Vera, and Patricia. They are senior citizens and they visit Coffee to Go three times a week after they take a walk in the park. They like to have breakfast together after their walk. Mary is drinking a cup of tea and eating eggs and a bagel. Vera is eating two donuts and drinking some orange juice. Patricia is eating yogurt and fruit and is drinking a cup of decaf coffee. They're talking and enjoying their breakfast.

It's a good morning for them, but it's not a good morning for Scott. He is a hard worker but he was late again. Harry, his manager, is talking to him. Scott is wiping a table and listening to Harry. Harry is angry. He is telling Scott that he must not be late again. Harry is asking Scott to stay late today.

Sashi is a business woman. Every month she flies from India to New York. Last Monday, Sashi flew from Mumbai, India, to New York. It was a terrible flight.

Sashi's flight was at 9:00 in the evening. She got to the airport at 5:00 in the evening. The airport was very busy. She stood in the line for security for two hours. When she got to the gate, she learned that her flight was delayed. She was on flight 482 from Mumbai. The plane was scheduled to leave at 9:00 o'clock. But, the plane was six hours late. Finally, at 3:00 in the morning Sashi got on the plane.

The plane was very crowded. Her seat was in row 33, the last row, next to the bathrooms. There was a woman and her two children in the seats next to Sashi. The children were tired and noisy.

The flight from Mumbai to New York was 14 hours. For the first part of the flight, the weather was calm, but the weather over Europe was terrible. Some of the people on the plane were sick because of the turbulence.

Finally, the plane landed in New York. It was 5 o'clock in the morning. She went to get her bags, but where were they? They weren't in the baggage claim area. Sashi waited in line again. The agent told her that her bags were in Chicago not in New York. Sashi took a taxi to her hotel and went to sleep. Thankfully, her bags were at the hotel that evening.

Conversation 1

Desk: Front desk. How can I help you?

Mr. Evans: This is Bill Evans in room 403. Our room is hot, very hot. We can't stay in here. What's wrong with this hotel?

Desk: Mr. Evans, I'm very sorry. Let me explain.

Mr. Evans: I don't need you to explain anything. I want the air conditioning fixed and I want it fixed now.

Desk: Mr. Evans, we know that there is a problem and there's someone working on it now.

Mr. Evans: This room is $150 a night. If the air conditioning isn't fixed in one hour, we're leaving.

Desk: Mr. Ev...

Conversation 2

Desk: Front desk. How can I help you?

Mr. Johnson: This is Mr. Johnson, room 425. Our room is very hot. The air conditioning isn't working. Are there any other rooms available?

Desk: We're sorry Mr. Johnson. We know that there is a problem and there's someone working on it now.

Mr. Johnson: Oh, that's good. But, we really can't stay in the room now.

Desk: Our restaurant has air conditioning. We're offering free drinks and appetizers in the restaurant. The air conditioning will be working soon.

Mr. Johnson: Thank you. We'll go to the restaurant and relax.

Desk: Thank you, Mr. Johnson. And again, we are sorry about the situation.

UNIT 9

Track 78, Page 158

I always go downtown on Saturday morning. It's the only day I have free all week. So, last Saturday I walked downtown as usual. First, I went to the bank and deposited my paycheck. Then, I walked across the street to the shoe store. I tried on two pairs of sneakers, but I didn't see anything that I liked. Next, I stopped at the post office and mailed a letter to my brother. I waited in line for ten minutes to buy stamps. Then, I walked to the drugstore and picked up a prescription for my wife. Next door, at the camera store, I looked at some digital cameras. After that, I was a little hungry, so I stopped at the coffee shop and ordered some juice, a cup of coffee, and a donut. Then I walked over to the library. They have a lot of newspapers and I looked at the Arabic language paper from my country. I borrowed a book about digital photography. Also, I applied for a library card. Finally, I stopped at the supermarket because I needed some fruit and a gallon of milk. That was my last stop and I walked back home.
